Buy a tag for Charity. To you the price is small, But the benefit, far-reaching, Will bring a blessing. All Who help to feed the hungry Or warm a hearth, grown cold, Will feel the spirit of Christmas Within his heart unfold. —E. P. B.

Do your Christmas buying early. "It's fresh at Klein's."

Mail your Christmas present early. Only twelve more days until Christmas.

Buy a tag for "Sweet Charity's Sale!"

It's fresh at Bethel's Meat Market. Conservation of fuel is the leading question these days.

The public schools will have ten days vacation during the holidays. Mack Denman made a "business" trip to St. Louis Saturday, returning Monday.

A full line of Seersucker Coatings at Bethel's Cash Meat Market.

A year's subscription to The Times would be an acceptable Christmas present to anyone.

Reductions on all Millinery at Mrs. S. C. Watts.

Wm. O'Sullivan came out from St. Louis the first of the week for a visit to his old home.

Try some of the fine Veal at Bethel's Cash Market.

Reduced prices on trimmed and untrimmed hats.—Mrs. S. C. Watts.

Shop windows are now taking on attractive appearances of Christmas cheer.

Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto Me. Buy a tag.

Make your Christmas Gifts of Candies from Sundry's.

Miss Byrd Watts entertained the Junior League of the Methodist Church, South, at her home on Liberty street, the last of the week. Many young folks were present and all had a splendid time.

With eggs selling at 70c a dozen, you should make your hens produce by feeding them ground meat scraps, which you can get for 5 cents a pound at Bethel's Cash Meat Market.

You should not fail to see Billy Burke in "The Mysterious Mrs. Terry" at the Monarch, next Tuesday night, Dec. 16th. It is a benefit performance, and it is also a splendid picture. Admission 10c and 15c.

We guarantee everything we sell at Bethel's Meat Market.

There has been but little business in the Circuit Court the past week. Most of the cases that were docketed for trial, have either been compromised out of court or continued by consent, so that few cases have been brought to trial.

See Billy Burke in "The Mysterious Mrs. Terry," on Benefit night, next Tuesday, Dec. 16th. This picture has already proven a great success. Admission 10c and 15c.

Glass, Glass, Glass! Any size, at H. C. Mell's Hdw. Store.

Mrs. E. E. Swink returned home Wednesday night from St. Louis, where she had been for a month with her husband, Judge E. E. Swink, who is at St. Luke's Hospital. She left the Judge improving nicely, which is good news to his friends here.

Save coal—use New Perfection Oil Heaters. At H. C. Mell's Hdw. Store.

His host of friends throughout this community will be pleased to know that Judge E. E. Swink has successfully passed a second operation at St. Luke's Hospital in St. Louis, and expects to be able to spend Christmas at home. Mrs. Swink is with him constantly. If the Judge is permitted to return home that soon it will be a "rich and rare" Christmas gift, not only for himself and family, but also for this community.

A close inspection of the advertising in The Times will save buyers both time and money. Not only that—it will also be a great convenience to all those intending to make Christmas purchases by acquainting them with where they can get just what they want, and at prices that are right, without being compelled to put in hours looking around through various stores for what they may wish to buy for Christmas presents.

Don't fail to visit Sundry's Candy Kitchen. We have candies of all kinds.

Apparently regardless of the present cold weather, work continues to be pressed forward in remodeling and improving the Home saloon building, preparatory for occupancy by the Farmington postoffice. A wonderfully improved appearance is being wrought in that property, which will soon be converted into an almost ideal postoffice home, where there should be no noticeable jam or crush during the business hours of the day.

J. B. Phelps, of Doe Run, was in town Monday on business. He imparted to some of his friends the gratifying information that his wife, who has been under treatment of Dr. H. H. Browne, at Belgrade, Washington county, for some time for cancer, is improving and that a permanent cure now appears to be close at hand. He says it is on a guarantee of an absolute cure that Dr. Brown took his wife's case in hand, and she and those most interested are now satisfied that the cancerous growth has been killed.

Just received a large assortment of Pyrex Glass Cookware—the most sanitary and economical to use—at H. C. Mell's Hdw. Store.

The advertiser has a right to all the patronage of every consumer in the community. The fact that he does advertise is a guarantee to you that he has confidence in the merits of the goods he advertises, also he would not call for public inspection of them. What right has the non-advertising merchant to even a part of your patronage? He can give you nothing, but expects to sell you his goods at a large profit, while failing and refusing to in any way support local institutions on which your own welfare is largely dependent.

Wagons loaded with wood are a very common sight on the streets now-a-days.

Allen Burks, who is employed in an automobile factory in Detroit, came in Wednesday night to spend the Christmas season with home folks.

Mrs. Shewell and son, Shannon, of California, spent the first of the week visiting at the home of her uncle, Rev. O. H. Cunningham, they went Wednesday to Ash Grove, where they are visiting other relatives.

Eliza Mayberry, who is a student in the University of Illinois at Urbana, came in Tuesday to remain over the Christmas season. The University at Urbana was closed earlier than expected because of a shortage of coal.

The High School is contemplating putting on an entertainment soon for the purpose of securing funds to apply on the sum now on hand to buy sweaters for the boys who played enough quarters during the past football season to be entitled to a sweater.

Mrs. Dennis Adler was taken to St. Louis Tuesday, where it is expected an operation will be necessary before she will be permitted to return home. She has been suffering considerably of late, and finally her condition became so serious as to make her removal to a hospital seem imperative.

The market for all kinds of furs and hides is soaring these days. Years ago the small boy was pleased to get ten cents for a muskrat hide. Now they are $2 and the demand good. In consequence of these high prices for all kinds of hides hunters and trappers are more numerous than they have been for years past.

Mrs. S. J. Tetley informs The Times that Mrs. H. H. Martin, of Cape Girardeau, State Chairman of the Federated Clubs and who has quite a reputation as an able speaker, is expected to be in Farmington on Jan. 23, to deliver an address, especially to the women. Mrs. Tetley has recently been appointed chairman of the Women's Democratic Clubs for St. Francois county, which position she is so capable of filling in most efficient manner. Mrs. Tetley has been regent of Sarah Barton Murphy Chapter of the D. A. R., president of the W. C. T. U., vice-president of the Fortnightly Club and the U. D. C. She was also active in all the Liberty Loan drives, and has a medal from the Government on her war activities. Mrs. Tetley is also deeply interested in political matters, and there is no reason for doubt that she will be as useful to her party in her present position as she has always proven to be in other work.

BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Minnie Lemmon of Fredericktown began work in the shorthand department Monday morning. She is getting along nicely.

Alvin Robinson found it necessary to discontinue his work temporarily on account of his younger brother getting his arm broken one day last week. Willie Smith missed a day or two this week, on account of extra work at home. His father, Billie Smith, had his arm broken by the kick of his Ford a few days ago, and is handicapped accordingly.

Freddie Womack completed the introductory Bookkeeping a few days ago. He will help with the work on the farm for a few weeks and then return for the advanced work. Freddie is the son of Clarence V. Womack, who lives near Farmington.

Miss Roxy Oevall, who has been teaching in a commercial college at Astoria, Ore., visited us one day this week. Her home is at Delassus, where she is visiting home folks at present.

SOMETHING WRONG

SOMEWHERE

A sale bill bearing the signature of "Will Quit Work" has been going the rounds of the press, and purports to be a Missouri auction sale, giving evidence of what queer combinations can be made by a printer who is suffering from the effects of a night out and badly picks the galley. The bill announcing the sale includes the following:

"Twenty-five good cows, broke to work; 41 head of cultivators, coming in soon; 10 head of shoveling boards, with scoops by side; 8 piano mares; 120 rods of canvas belting, better than new; DeLaval cow, with ice-cream attachment; McCormick binder, in foal; Poland-China boistered, due to farrow in April; 14 head of chickens with grass-seed attachment, in good working order; 2 J. I. C. riding heifers, good as new; spraying outfit, can be ridden or driven by children; 15 billy goats, 70 bushels capacity, with spraying nozzle and other attachments; many other, other articles, too numerous to mention, which I expect to get at night between now and date of sale."—Country Gentleman.

OPPORTUNITY FOR GIRLS

How would farm girls of St. Francois county like to have the opportunity of going into business for themselves? Such an opportunity will be given any farm girl in Missouri, between the ages of 10 and 18 years, if she takes advantage of the opportunity soon enough. Have you heard about the Ruralist Poultry Club? It was organized in order that farm girls might have their own bank accounts. A girl who wishes to join the Poultry Club may enter a pen of eight purebred pullets or hens and a cockerel or cock, or 20 purebred baby chicks.

These are two separate departments. The eight pullets and cockerel are to be penned from time of entry until June 30, 1920, and during this time the contestant is to keep accurate records of her purchases. The prices placed in this department are larger than in the baby chick department. Only an estimate of the feed consumed by the baby chicks is to be kept by the girl who joins the baby chick department. The 20 chicks are not to be penned. The girls in this department compete for a different set of prizes. Several hundred dollars will be awarded poultry club girls in Missouri in 1920, if you are interested in the Ruralist Poultry Club, write to Esther Kamholz, Graniteville, Mo., for further information. Come on, girls, let's get in the game and compete for the Poultry trophy and cash prizes to be awarded at the close of the 1920 contest.

Yours truly,
ESTHER KAMHOLZ,
Graniteville, Mo.
Member of Ruralist Poultry Club.

BETTY SWINK FLEMING

At 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning, December 7, 1919, after a lingering and painful illness of scarlet fever, the flowering spirit of little Betty Swink Fleming, cherished daughter and only child of William N. and Lyda Swink Fleming, took its upward flight from its frail body to the radiant fields Elysian.

Betty came to bless their home on March 14, 1913. She was a beautiful, sweet and winsome child, but only for a few fleeting years was she to brighten and gladden their home, weaving about their hearts the silken tendrils of love and joy and gladness, now torn and bleeding with bitter sorrow and bereavement that human sympathy and words cannot assuage.

This sympathy we may and do give with full measure, yet how poor and unavailing when the heart is breaking with its weight of grief. Wee there not another, a diviner, source of consolation, how desolate and barren life would be! But the twin sisters, Faith and Hope, reach out their beautiful hands to purify away the inkly clouds of sorrow and despair that we may see as through a veil the happy smile and beckoning hands on the shining shores where Faith and Hope assure us, we shall again clasp our missing loved ones to our hearts.

Yet it all seems so obscure, so unreal, so far remote, that finite vision fails to grasp its reality; and so we grope along in the hovering darkness of our sorrows, recalling the patter of little feet along the floor, the winsome smile and laughing eyes, the velvet touch of baby fingers on our face, the fond pressure of cheek against cheek, and the sweet, warm embrace of dear little arms about the neck, thus counting our cherished treasures o'er and o'er, and while we pray Infinite Love to help us bear the cross as we linger in the Gethsemane of anguish, and to repeat with His blessed Son, "Thy will, not mine, be done."

WILLIAM McMAHON

William McMahon died at his home in this city Sunday, Dec. 7, 1919, at 6:30 a. m., of cancer of the stomach. He was aged 50 years and 21 days, having been born on Big River, this county, on Nov. 16, 1869. He was well known in this city, having lived and been in business here for many years. He was lately engaged in the drapery business, but was forced to give this up on account of ill health. Deceased was a well-liked citizen and man and his death is mourned by many—especially by those who were most intimately acquainted with him.

Funeral services were conducted at the Catholic church at 9:30 Tuesday morning and burial took place in the Calvary cemetery.

Deceased is survived by his wife, one son, several brothers and sisters and other relatives, to whom The Times extends its greatest sympathy.

MRS. MARY E. YOUNG

Mrs. Mary E. Young passed away at her home in the northern part of Farmington last Saturday. The cause of her death was heart trouble, from which she had been a sufferer for eight years. Deceased was born Nov. 7, 1857, and was aged 62 years and 29 days at the time of her death.

Deceased has a host of relatives and friends living in and near Farmington and her passing is deeply mourned by scores. Her death casts a shadow of grief over all those who knew her or were related to her.

The funeral services were conducted at the M. E. Church, South, Monday, by Rev. O. H. Duggins and interment was made at the K. of P. cemetery.

The bereaved relatives have the condolence of The Times in their great grief.

MRS. ETHA LOTZ

The death of Mrs. Etha Lotz, wife of Harry Lotz, occurred at her home on Route 6, Farmington, last Saturday, December 6, 1919. Deceased was born July 9, 1838 and was, therefore, aged 81 years, 4 months and 29 days. The remains were brought to Farmington Monday to the home of Ed Lotz, where they remained until Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted that afternoon at the First Baptist Church by Rev. Kennedy, of Flat River, in the absence of the regular pastor. The remains were laid to rest in the K. of P. cemetery.

The Times extends condolence to the bereaved husband and other sorrowing relatives, who sadly mourn the passing of a dear wife, mother and relative.

CHARITY TAG-DAY

Saturday, December 13th, Farmington will hold its first annual Tag Day for the benefit of its Provident Association, or, we might better say, for the benefit of the poor within our gates, who are already calling on the Charity Association for assistance.

The stringency in the coal situation and the high cost of living are adding greatly to the number of those who will need help during the coming winter months.

So, buy a tag for "Sweet Charity's sake," from the women and girls who will sell them on the downtown streets Saturday, giving what you can that some one less fortunate than yourself may be fed and warmed these bitter winter days.
